ARE YOU READY TO STEP UP AND BECOME A LEADER IN FORESTRY?

Oklahoma Forestry Services is looking for foresters who want to be a part of our strong team of dedicated professionals, serving a public as diverse as our landscapes.

From the post and black jack oaks in the central and northern part of the state to pine forests in southeastern Oklahoma, our foresters primarily help landowners across the state manage their land.

Additionally, foresters have opportunities to work in a variety of areas, expanding their knowledge and gaining new skills.

Opportunities for Foresters:

- Manage forest ecosystems for multi-use benefits
- Provide technical assistance and land management plans to landowners
- Assist communities, towns and cities with forestry projects

- Educate the public about Oklahoma Forestry Services and Oklahoma forests
- Conduct wildfire suppression and prescribed burning
- Assist with nursery and genetic tree improvement center operations
- Perform Forest Inventory & Analysis (FIA)
- Pursue opportunities for statewide and regional project collaboration
- Grow through professional development opportunities

12.5 million acres of forest and woodlands

Education requirement:

Foresters must possess a four-year degree from an accredited college or university, with major coursework in forestry.

Why Oklahoma Forestry Services?
